Foreword from John Maher

Director of Academy Recruit Training

Welcome to our E-Learning course for the police recruit assessment process known as SEARCH. Our Course also covers the new Day One Assessment Centre used by some forces.

We provide training on the application form, how to pass the police recruit assessment centre known as SEARCH and the Day One Assessment Centre. We are specialists in the police recruit assessment and our training will prepare you to pass at the first attempt.

I am John Maher. I am a retired Police Inspector. I served 30 years with Greater Manchester Police. During that Time I received two Chief Constables Commendations for bravery as an Operational officer. I also received 4 Branch Commanders Commendations for Excellence while serving in the Learning and Development branch. I have over 20 years experience helping people to join the Police and training people how to pass police assessment centres. This interactive e-learning course has been designed and is delivered personally by me. This course is a complete course that covers the application process, all the exercises assessed at the SEARCH police recruit assessment centre and the One Day assessment

I am so confident in our product and service that I offer a money back guarantee the details of which are outlined later in this prospectus.

I am passionate that our course is as good as it possibly can be. There are three very important reasons why you should choose our training. The reasons are expertise in the police assessment, expertise in police training and Quality course content. You can see my rationale for these reasons throughout this prospectus.

If you are considering joining the Police and would like advice about the best possible route please feel free to call me without any obligation.

Thank you for taking the time to look at our course, and I wish you all the very best in your studies and future career.

Assessment Process

The assessment centre for the selection of constables is known as the Police SEARCH Recruit Assessment Centre. There is also a new assessment being used by some forces known as the Day One Assessment Centre. The force you apply to should tell you which assessment will be used.

The First stage of the process is the application form. Those successful at the application stage move onto an assessment centre.

The SEARCH assessment consists of the following:

Four interactive exercises (Role Plays). In these exercises you are playing the role of a Customer Service Officer. In each exercise you are given written information about an incident. You are given 5 minutes to read and make notes on the information. You then spend 5 minutes interacting with a role actor. It is the interaction with the role actor that is assessed.

Two written exercises.

Written exercise one: You will be asked to read typed instructions before using this information to complete an incident report form. Written exercise two: You will be asked to make notes while watching a DVD of a person being interviewed about an incident that they have witnessed. You will then use these notes to complete an incident report form. The notes will NOT be assessed

A Competency Based Structured Interview. You will be asked 4 questions, two questions about motivations and values that relate to the Police Service and two questions about how you have dealt with specific situations in the past. You will have a maximum of 5 minutes to answer each question.

Two psychometric tests, a numerical reasoning test and a verbal reasoning test.

The Day One Assessment consists of the following:

Day One is a half day assessment which incorporates the use of immersive technology and requires you to assume the role of a Police Constable and complete seven exercises which have all been designed around realistic policing scenarios. Day One has been designed so that no prior knowledge of the role of a police officer or any policing knowledge is required in order to successfully complete the exercises. Further information on the role profile of a Police Constable can be found here: <https://profdev.college.police.uk/professionalprofile/police-constable/> At the start of the day you will be given a tablet that you will use throughout the assessment centre. Your tablet will be used to provide you instructions on how to complete the exercises, enable you to watch videos and provide your responses to some of the exercises.

Course Syllabus

Introduction Module. In this module we will cover exactly what is involved in the assessment process including the initial application and the assessment day. We will show you the format of the e-learning course and explain how to get the most out of the course

Module 1 In this module we will cover the interactive exercises from the assessment centre or as they are commonly known, the Role Plays. We will provide you with 6 Role plays along with role actor lines and marking guides. We will show you a tried and tested system for dealing with the Role plays. We will show you how to prepare notes from the written material you are provided and a system for interacting with the role actor. There will be instructional videos showing examples of how to do the role plays and how not to. We will explain the marking guide and show you exactly how to score points as this is generally misunderstood. We will even show your techniques to deal with exam nerves using Neuro Linguistic Programming techniques

Module 2 In this Module we will show you how to deal with the written exercises. We will provide 2 written exercises along with marking guides. We will show you a system for reading the material, making notes and writing a high scoring answer in the 30 minutes allowed for each exercise. The exercises have been updated to reflect the latest College of Policing exercises.

Module 3 This Module is in two parts. Part 2 has been specifically designed to cover the latest changes to the assessment that began in September 2015. In Part 1 we will show you how to prepare and develop answers for a competency based interview. We will show you what scores and what doesn't. We will show you a technique for structuring your answers. The session will be interactive. We will show you videos of a person giving a competency based answers and you will be tasked with marking those answers using the marking guide we provide. We will provide you with written copies of answers that score well and answers that don't. At the end of this session you will understand exactly what is required to produce a good answer so you can use this knowledge to develop answers from your own life experiences. Part 2 will build on Part 1 and we will show you how to develop answers for the four questions that will be asked as part of the new assessment.

Module 4 In this module we will show you how to prepare and develop answers for the application form. This will relate to many issues covered in Mod 3 as the application form contains competency based questions. The answers will be structured slightly differently for the application form and we will show you how to do that. We will also provide advice and guidance on the rest of the application form.

Module 5 In this module we will cover Psychometric testing. We provide advice, guidance and top tips for dealing with Psychometric tests. Using our interactive Learn-dash platform you will be able to practice tests the same as those in the assessment centre. We have provided over 100 Numerical reasoning questions and 175 verbal reasoning questions. Verbal Reasoning Test 1 questions are to match the type of question you will get in section A of the assessment centre verbal ability test. Test 2 questions are to match the type of question you will get in section B of the assessment centre verbal ability test. Numerical test 1 questions cover all the numerical operations needed in the assessment centre test. Test 2 we introduce charts and graphs and tables to develop your ability to use numbers in a rational way. The questions are completed on Line. We have provided the answers for the tests in a PDF document to enable you to check your answers more easily.

Module 6 Day One Assessment Centre. All elements of the Day One Assessment centre are covered in this module

Assessment centre Expertise

The course designer and trainer John Maher is a highly qualified and experienced recently retired Police Inspector.
